

Good news for Utah farms and small businesses looking to reduce energy costs!

Want to reduce your energy cost but are not sure where to begin? Have an energy efficiency project in mind but want to know how much you will save?

The Utah Agricultural and Small Business Energy Efficiency Audit Program is here to help!

An energy efficiency audit will help identify and quantify the energy savings opportunities for your business. The energy efficiency audit can be used to access federal grants such as the Rural Energy for America Program (REAP), and can help you prioritize your equipment investments by showing you which energy efficiency projects are most cost-effective.

Energy efficiency audits can identify opportunities such as:

- Lighting
- Heating/Cooling
- Refrigeration
- Doors/Windows/Insulation
- Irrigation pumps and motors
- Milk cooling and milk harvest
- More!

We are currently accepting applications for energy efficiency audits! Call EnSave at (800) 732-1399 to apply.

Project Partners:

This program is available through a grant from USDA Rural Development. The program is implemented by Panoramaland Resource Conservation & Development Council in partnership with EnSave, Inc. Panoramaland Resource Conservation & Development Council is a non-profit public/private partnership developed to engage local leaders through collaborative projects to solve local problems, improve local conditions, and promote the local economy. EnSave, Inc. is an agricultural and rural business energy efficiency provider that has worked with rural America since 1991.
